

Divers Plan Underwater Golf Fund Raiser For Katie

IT WAS WITH a sense of terrible sadness that the staff and contributors of SCOTTISH DIVER magazine learned of the recent death of Katie Topley, the daughter of Jason Topley, manager of Aberdeen Watersports. Katie died suddenly and unexpectedly in August just 12 days after her 4th birthday.

Jason, an energetic and exuberant individual, is well-known in diving circles in the north-east and indeed throughout Scotland and the UK. Our deepest sympathies go to Jason, his wife Alison and their 6 year old son Jamie.

Speaking to SCOTTISH DIVER Jason said: "Alison and myself have been overwhelmed by the support and kind words we have received by so many friends in the diving industry at this extremely difficult time. In lieu of flowers we decided to collect donations for Aberdeen Children's hospital in memory of Katie."

Initially Jason and Alison had set a target of £4,000, £1,000 for each of her four years, however it seems likely that this total will be exceeded. And now a group of local divers has organised a sponsored Underwater Crazy Golf Competition in November with all money raised going to the Archie Fund.

A number of suppliers have donated items of equipment which are now on sale at Aberdeen Watersports. So pop into the shop and buy one of these items or get along to Stirlinghill Quarry on Sunday, November 13 when teams of 4 divers will take part in a round of Underwater Crazy Golf. Minimum of £15 sponsorship per head (£60 per team). Prizes for best dressed players, most decorative golf club and most creative cheating. All sponsorship donated to the Archie Fund at the Children's Hospital in memory of Katie.

BAUER BREATHING AIR COMPRESSORS

NOTICE FROM DIVEX LTD

THERE HAS recently been confusion amongst diving customers in the UK when a company circulated a letter to dive shops promoting themselves as representing Bauer Kompressoren of Germany for sales of compressors and spares into the diving market.

This is not correct. For over 30 years our company has been the exclusive distributor for sales of Bauer breathing air compressors and spare parts to the commercial, sport and military diving market in the UK inclusive of Northern Ireland.

We were originally known as Underwater Instrumentation and later adopted the name of UWI Ltd. This company rapidly became respected as a supplier of high quality diving related equipment with a sales and support team second to none in terms of their experience, product knowledge and customer service.

Following the merger with Circle Offshore Ltd in Aberdeen the company became known as UWI Circle Ltd and continued to thrive on its reputation as a respected professional supplier of diving equipment. In June 1997 this company merged with Divex/Sub Sea Services Ltd and since that time has been known by our present name of Divex Limited.

We now have subsidiary companies in Australia, South Africa and the Middle East but have never forgotten our origins and our core business of supplying the diving market with the best possible quality equipment.

We are proud of our exclusive distributor agreement to sell what we consider to be the premier breathing air compressor in the world. Bauer Kompressoren has confirmed their confidence in us and assured us that they highly appreciate our continued efforts on their behalf.

Our sales staff and engineers are trained by Bauer and are fully qualified to assist with all your compressor and servicing requirements.
