

Sound of Mull 2009 Underwater Archaeological Fieldschool

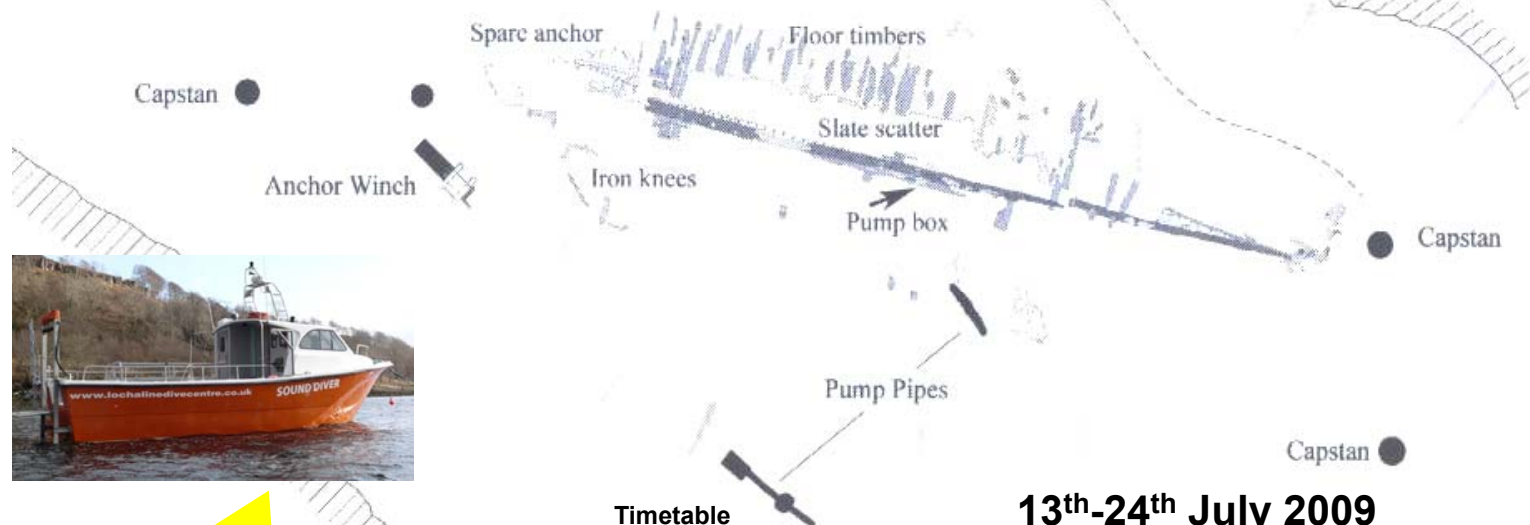

In partnership with:

lochaline
DIVE CENTRE

- Self Catering/B&B Accommodation
- Dive Boat Charter
- Dive Shop, Air Nitrox & Trimix
- IANTD & PADI Diver Training
- Wildlife Excursions

www.lochalinedivecentre.co.uk - 01967 421 627

In July 2009 the NAS will be running a 12 day fieldschool on underwater archaeology based at Lochaline Dive Centre on the West coast of Scotland. The fieldschool will be taught by the NAS Training Officer, Mark and Annabel Lawrence (ADUS and formally of Wessex Archaeology and the ADU at St Andrew's University) as well as Colin Martin and Paula Martin (IJNA editor).

Diving from
"Sound Diver"

Timetable

- 13th July: Introduction course
- 14th -15th July: Part 1 course
- 16th July: Heritage Day on the Duart Point protected wreck
- 17th-22nd July: fieldwork on the schooner John Preston.

Also includes Part 3 courses on geophysics, illustration, photography and report writing
(Full timetable on NAS website)

13th-24th July 2009

Lochaline Dive Centre, Lochaline

Introduction course: £50.00
Part 1 Cost: £150.00
Fieldschool only cost (inc. Part 3's): £200.00

Minimum Diving Qualification: BSAC Sports Diver / PADI Rescue Diver.

Price does not include dive centre accommodation (available from £25 per night) or food. Please contact Lochaline Dive Centre to book accommodation.

Only 8 places – please contact NAS to book

Grant Aided by Historic Scotland

