

Fish Identification for Divers

The London Aquarium
Saturday 28th January 2006
10:30 am - 4.30 pm

This one-day course in fish identification for divers will be led by Dr Frances Dipper, author of 'British Sea Fishes'. It will include an introduction to the form and function of fishes, and cover their life history, feeding and reproduction. We will go on to look at the range of fishes which can be seen by divers in British and Irish waters and how to identify them underwater, including looking at the aquarium's temperate water tanks. Finally we will look at some of the conservation issues affecting fish in our waters.

The course is aimed primarily at divers with the intention of improving fish recognition skills for those who want to take part in Seasearch surveys. However you do not need to be a Seasearch diver to take part. If you are the course will count towards your Seasearch Specialist qualification so bring along your Seasearch logbook.

What the course includes:

- illustrated presentations
 - a course pack
- entrance to the London Aquarium
 - pocket Good Fish Guide

Copies of British Sea Fishes, the Good Fish Guide and other Seasearch publications will be on sale at the course.

The cost of the day is £30.00

To reserve your place on the course please complete the Booking Form attached and return it with your payment for the course. Numbers are limited and must be notified to the aquarium in advance so we may not be able to accommodate those who just turn up on the day.

Booking Form

Fish Identification for divers - 28th January 2006

I wish to book places for this course and include a cheque for £30.00 per person for the course made out to the Marine Conservation Society.

Name.....

Address:

Postcode.....

Email address:

Telephone

Names of other persons attending

.....

Seasearch would like to include your name and address in our database and send you information by email about other Seasearch events. We will not pass your details on to third parties.

If you do NOT wish to receive information from us please tick here

Return this completed form with your cheque to:

Chris Wood
National Seasearch Coordinator
Hollybush, Chequers Lane,
Eversley, Hook, Hants,
RG27 0NY.